THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII

This wonderful picture is in eight reels and but one show will be given. It will take two hours to run it and will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

The management of the Orient has made every effort to play the great feature, "The Last Days of Pompeii," next Wednesday, April 8, at no advance in prices, but has been unable to reach an agreement. The price, in contradiction to the ad. on the back page, will be 10 and 20 cents.

Tired of Life She Follows Her Husband

Widow of George Groesser Grows Despondent and Decides to End It All.

Mrs. Pearl Kruse Groesser died in Salt Lake City last Sunday. She was formerly a resident of this city. The following account is taken from a Salt Lake paper:

Mrs. Pearl Groesser, 23 years of age, widow of George Groesser, who committed suicide at Fort Douglas parade grounds September 4, swallowed the contents of a small bottle of strychnine at the bunkhouse of the Lincoln dairy, Twelfth South and Sixth West, shortly before 7 o'clock last night and died of convulsions a few minutes later. In a last message to her mother, Mrs. H. J. Kruse, 962 East Fifth South, she said she desired to go the way her husband had gone, being tired of life.

Keeping an appointment with her daughter, Mrs. Kruse went to Mrs. Groesser's boarding place, 325 Second East, late yesterday. On a table in her room Mrs. Kruse found a sealed envelope. The envelope being addressed to her she tore it open. The note impressed Mrs. Kruse that her daughter intended going to the parade grounds to commit suicide, and she ran to police headquarters. Detective C. C. Carstensen dispatched Patrolmen Henry Betz and Reed Billing to Fort Douglas. With the assistance of Maj. Willis Uline, commandant of the post, they made a fruitless search.

Second Report Received

Almost simultaneously with the urgent appeal of Mrs. Kruse, Detective Carstensen received a telephone message from the Lincoln dairy that a unknown young woman had swallowed poison. Carstensen turned the case over to Sheriff Andrew Smith, Jr. Accompanied by Dr. C. L. Shields, assistant county physician, and Deputy Sheriff Jack Taylor, the sheriff drove to the bunkhouse of the dairy. The girl had died.

A. H. Stone, one of the proprietors of the dairy, informed the sheriff that Pearl Groesser hailed him at Twelfth South and West Temple at noon yesterday. He was driving to the dairy. Stone says the girl pleaded with him for a ride to the dairy, where she wanted to talk to Robert Dean, a milker. Stone says he knew Dean was attempting to shake off the attention of the Groesser woman on grounds that Dean was recently engaged to be married, and he persuaded her not to go to the dairy.

During the late afternoon, however, Mrs. Groesser walked into the cook house of the dairy, appearing tired of her long walk. She asked for Dean, Harry Stone, brother of the proprietor of the dairy, told her Dean was busy milking. He suggested that she go into the bunkhouse to wait for him, but she lingered about the cookhouse in an effort to engage someone in a conversation, Stone says.

"How are you feeling?" she asked me," says Harry Stone.

"I replied that I had a headache, when she produced a little bottle explaining, 'This will cure all the headaches that you ever had or ever will have.' Then she went into the bunkhouse."

Finds Woman In Convulsions

Finishing his milking Dean went into the bunkhouse to see what Mrs. Groesser wanted, he says. He found her in convulsions. Other dairy hands were attracted by his alarm and ran to see what had happened.

Learning from Detective Carstensen of the last message which Mrs. Kruse, mother of the girl, had, the sheriff ordered Dean to enter his automobile. At the county jail Dean was held until Mrs. Kruse could be found. When the letter she had received from her daughter had been read the sheriff released Dean.

Dr. Shields ascertained upon examination that the bottle contained strychnine. It had no label and it may prove difficult to determine where the young woman purchased the poison. The tragic death of her husband made Mrs. Groesser despondent, is the explanation offered by Mrs. Kruse. In a last message Geo. Groesser indicated that he would commit suicide on the parade grounds at Fort Douglas because he suspected a soldier was alienating the affections of his wife.

The body of Groesser was found on the parade grounds by a company of infantry practicing maneuvers.

Funeral services were held at O'Donnell chapel and the burial was in the Salt Lake City cemetery. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kruse, the girl's parents.

PLEASANT GROVE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The chapel exercises Friday were enjoyed by all and were as follows: The high school sang "Sweet and Low."

Prayer by Principal James H. Walker.

Mr. Whitaker, principal of the American Fork high school, spoke on his travels in Europe.

Ora Holman sang "Happy Days," accompanied by LeRoy Robertson and Mr. Overlade on the violin and piano.

There was no school Wednesday afternoon on account of April Fool's Day.

Most of the high school faculty attended the entertainment given at American Fork, Thursday evening, for the teachers of the north end of the county.

Principal Walker entertained the faculty at his home Tuesday evening. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

The Sophomore class expects to stage "All of a Sudden Peggy" about April 18.

Miss Lee and Miss Thurman accompanied the Freshmen girls on a trip to the canyon Wednesday afternoon. A most enjoyable time was had. After climbing the hills a great fire was kindled and a fine supper was cooked, which was accompanied by much merriment.

Can You Doubt It

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of American Fork testify to benefits derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Lehi says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony.

William Southwick, Sr., retired farmer, Fifth West & First St., North, Lehi, Utah, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years for kidney ailments. I think they are the best kidney medicine to be had. Before I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I suffered terribly, but it didn't take them long to relieve all the pains and aches and restore my kidneys to their proper working order. It is a pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney complaint."

Uric Acid In Meat Clogs the Kidneys

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. The become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or side, headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.
